J. T. RABBETH DIES TUESDAY IN LOUISVILLE.

Died Shortly After Operation Had Been Performed.

HE ONCE LIVED HERE.

Was at One Time Engaged in Business With the Late John Orr.

"The web of life is curiously woven and the visits of death are strangely mingled," has been written.

Just four days after the sudden death of Mr. John Orr in Louisville, his old friend and partner, Mr. John T. Rabbeth, suddenly passed into the great beyond. The news of Mr. Rabbeth's death came to this city by telephone late Wednesday afternoon from Clarksville, where he had made many friends while in the milling business there. The following, from the Courier-Journal of Thursday, gives the particulars of his death:

"John T. Rabbeth, a well-known business man, died suddenly of pneumonia at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Norton Infirmary, following an operation performed Tuesday afternoon for hernia. Mr. Rabbeth was in his office in the grist mill of the Rabbeth-Rutherford Milling Co., Floyd and Bloom streets, when he was strucken shortly after three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. An ambulance was hurriedly called and he was taken to Norton Infirmary. Physicians were summoned at once and it was decided that no relief could be afforded unless an operation was performed. The operation was successfully performed, but during the night pneumonia set in and he began to sink rapidly until death came yesterday afternoon."

Mr. Rabbeth came to Hopkinsville during the latter part of the war, in the capacity of military telegraph operator. Being transferred to another point, after remaining here more than a year, the war closed before he returned. He had become attached to Hopkinsville and made many warm friends while here in the employ of the government. He and his old friend, William Cowan, both Louisville young men, formed a partnership in buying wheat. Mr. Rabbeth was at one time a partner in the milling business with the late John Orr and Mr. F. J. Brownell. Disposing of his interest in the business here, he went to Trenton and engaged in the same business there with Mr. Bacon. Seeing a brighter opening at Clarksville, he located there and continued in the milling business for several years, going to Louisville about four years ago. He formed a company in Louisville, owning a controlling share of the stock, and established a large milling plant, which made considerable money, but Mr. Rabbeth, owing to continued feeble health, sold out his interest, in order to get a respite from the cares of his occupation. But being a very industrious man, and having to some extent regained his health, he again embarked in the milling business on a large scale.

Mr. Rabbeth was 60 years of age. He leaves a wife, who was Miss Ella McReynolds, of this city. His sister, Mrs. Charlotte Oliver, lives in Louisville and with whom he was boarding at the time of his death. At his request, made during the latter years of his life, he was buried in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville, Thursday morning.

Very Ill.

Mr. Joseph W. Campbell's condition was reported yesterday morning to be extremely critical and his friends have almost despaired of his recovery.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS.

Thirty-four More Indictments Returned Thursday Afternoon.

EQUITY MATTERS NEXT.

Only One More Week Of The Present Term Of Court.

The grand jury completed its work Thursday and adjourned sine die. A batch of thirty-four bills was returned. Nearly all the indictments charge minor offenses. The T. C. railroad was indicted for maintaining a nuisance. The alleged nuisance is the bridge over the company's track at the crossing on the Canton pike, near the city.

The petit jurors will be discharged today and next week, the last week of court, will be devoted to equity matters.

Under pretermitted instructions from the court, the jury in the case of D. M. Booker against the City of Hopkinsville, found for the city. Mr. Booker, one day last winter while walking on the icy streets, fell and broke an arm. He sued for $5,000, alleging that the accident was due to negligence on the part of the city in not having the ice removed from the pavement.

THE COW LAW IS REPEALED.

Dr. Jackson Changes Front and Moves to Re- peal.

SUIT TO BE DISMISSED.

Called Meeting of the Council Held Thursday Night To Do It.

The City Council met in called session Thursday night with Councilman Davis in the chair, in the absence of Mayor Henry. The chief matter of interest considered was the repeal of the stock law enacted June 2. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 4 to 3, Dr. J. E. Jackson moved the repeal of the ordinance, giving as a reason that many voters of his ward had signed a call upon another man to run for councilman, which he attributed to his former attitude on the stock law. There was but little discussion and the new law was repealed and the old one re-enacted. It prohibits all stock except milk cows in the day time from running at large in the city.

Attorney John Feland was present and stated that the litigation growing out of the injunction suit would likely not be pressed, now that the law had been repealed.

$8,250 GIVEN TO C. G. REEDER

He Lost One Leg and Almost The Other Last October.

A COMPROMISE CASE.

The Claim Was for $25,000 When Suit Was Filed.

At Earlington last October, G. G. Reeder, who lives a short distance north of the city, was horribly mangled by being run over by a car of the L. & N. Railroad. Both of his legs were broken. He filed suit in the Circuit Court at the February term, but the case was continued to the present term. In his petition Mr. Reeder states that while in discharge of his duty in repairing a car under the orders of his superiors that the defendant negligently permitted one of its cars to run over his body; that the defendant caused him to assume an unsafe and dangerous position; that he was working in obedience to the orders of the agents and servants of the said railroad company; that by the carelessness of his superiors he was grievously wounded, and by reason of such injuries one of his legs had to be amputated in order to save his life, and that his other leg was broken and mangled and permanently injured so as to deprive him of the use thereof. He asked for damages against the defendant, the L. & N. R. R. Co., for the sum of $25,000 and for costs of the action.

Negotiations for a settlement out of court had been going on for some time by the attorneys of both sides of the case, and a settlement was finally reached late Wednesday afternoon. The L. & N. agreed to pay Mr. Reeder the sum of $8,250 for his injuries which was accepted. J. T. Hanberry and Wood & Son of this city and Gordon & Gordon & Co., of Madisonville were employed by Mr. Reeder. Judge Joe McCarroll and Judge C. H. Bush were the attorneys for the L. & N.

Washington, D. C., June 23.—For Kentucky: Unsettled, with probably showers to-night and Saturday.

Mrs. Will Reynolds, of Daviess county is afflicted with hydrocephalus from nourishing a pet dog a year ago, that never bit her. Doctors are puzzled to know how she caught the disease.

The Democratic county committee will meet Monday for the purpose of nominating a county ticket. It is not possible at this writing to forecast the make-up of the ticket, as the committee will make a recommendation ticket as a whole to the convention to be held in the afternoon.

The National Daughters of the American Revolution will hold a patriots' meeting in memorial conference hall, Washington, on July 4. Chapters all over the country are also directed to hold appropriate exercises to celebrate the 4th. The local chapter will have a special program at the meeting July 1st.

The wreck of a passenger train on the Lake Shore road, running on the new 20-hour schedule from New York to Chicago, has caused the old 24-hour schedule to be restored. Nineteen men, some very prominent in business, were killed and a dozen more were injured. The officials claim that fast running did not cause the train to leave the track, but allege that it was maliciously derailed.

Miss Sallie Leonard, of Eddyville, Ky., recently married Edwin Bliss, a well-known New York playwright. Miss Leonard was the daughter of the late S. N. Leonard, banker and businessman of Lyon county. Seven years ago she made a summer tour of Europe, and some months after she returned the chaperon brought suit against her father for money claimed to have been expended for Miss Leonard above what the trip was scheduled to cost. She is a striking blonde, and first went to New York with the intention of becoming an actress.

Cairo Bites the Dust in an Errorless Game

DOUBLE HEADER FRIDAY

Winning Streak has Put the STANDING TO JUNE 22.

Clubs—	Played	Won	Lost	Pet.
Paducah	50	35	15	700
Vincennes	46	31	15	695
Cairo	47	21	26	446
Princeton	49	20	29	407
Henderson	48	19	29	393
Hopkinsville	48	17	31	354

At last the Hopkinsville team has settled down to business and the Browns are playing sure enough ball. Three shut outs in three days, is a record probably equalled by no other team in the League this season. Not a single score was made off the team in the three games played Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Perdue pitched the Wednesday game, the last of the Vincennes series, shutting out the visitors 3 to 0. Jones was in the box for the Hoosiers. The errors were 2 for Vincennes and 1 for Hopkinsville. Perdue allowed only 3 hits while Jones was hit 5 times. Repeating the performance of Bomar the day before, Perdue was enthusiastically cheered when his victory was won with an inning not used.

Cairo Shut Out.

For the second time this season, Cairo's brag team was goose egged here Thursday afternoon. The game was the best in many respects ever played on the local diamond.

The umpire, Kiefer, was fair and impartial. The weather was cloudy and pleasant. The players were good-natured and full of giner on both sides. There were no accidents or mishaps. There was no bunting or kicking. The game was errorless on both sides and the attendance showed marked improvement over previous days.

The line up was as follows: Hopkinsville Cairo. Barlow, cf Larsen, ss McAndrews, ss Price, cf Bracy, If. Roland, 2b Morris, 3b Vitter, 1b Meyers, 1b Hughes, If Henderson, 2b Hippert, Sullinger, rf McNamara, rf Schen, c Harvey, c Desmond, p. Exstone, p.

The game was called at 3:45 and with Cairo at the bat, the first man up, Larsen, struck out. Price died at first base, Roland knocked a two base. Vitter fanned and Hopkinsville came up.

Barlow made a nice two-base hit, McAndrews popped out, Brady flew out and Morris was put out at first. Nothing doing.

SECOND INNING.
Dummy Hughes started the ball for Cairo, but was put out at first. Hippert walked, McNamara fanned and Harvey flew out. Hopkinsville had three up and three down. Myers flew out, Henderson was put out and Sullinger struck out. Brady's sensational running catch of Harvey's fly in this inning was a feature of the game.

THIRD INNING.

Cairo's pitcher, Exstone, was first up and singled, but died at second. Larsen failed to reach first, and Price knocked a long fly to Brady. The Browns came up confident, Schan singled and Desmond bunted into Exstone's hands and Schan was doubled out at first. Barlow fanned and the side was out.

FOURTH.

Roland, the heavy hitter, who got two of Cairo's four hits, died at first this time. Vitter gave Brady another chance to distinguish himself in a splendid running catch and Hughes saw the ball. All over. McAndrews and Brady both were put out at first. Morris was hit by a pitched ball and walked. Myers knocked a long fly that never hit the ground.

and down. Harvey singled, but Exstone flew out and left him on base. Henderson, the third of the Browns to come up, sent a long fly to center. Sulinger made a nice single, but Schan flew out and Desmond died at first. Five good eggs in each row.

SIXTH.

Cairo came up for the third batting round. Larsen popped out. Price went out at first, Roland knocked a double but Vitter failed to reach first.

It so happened that the locals started out the top of the list this time. Barlow walked, McAndrews with a two-bagger advanced him to third. Brady followed with an infield hit and reached first on fielder's choice. Barlow being put out at home. Morris won the game with a two-bagger on which McAndrews scored and Brady reached third. It looked good, with only one out, but Myers and Henderson were both stopped at first and only one score was made.

SEVENTH.

This inning was three up and three down on both sides, each pitcher having a strike out to his credit.

EIGHTH.

A strike out, a put out and a fly out was all Cairo got. Hopkinsville did better. Barlow died at first, McAndrews singled, Brady did the same but Mc died at second and Morris popped.

NINTH.

Cairo's last chance. Price, Roland and Vitter dealt in flies and it was all up with the Egyptians.

The match with Cairo yesterday was a double-header, the first game called at 2:30. The batters for Hopkinsville were Bomar and Schan, and Simpson and Rutledge. For Cairo, Bittroff and Hord, and Wilder and Harvey.

SURRENDERED.

George Johnson, the divorced husband of Carrie Johnson, the colored woman who was assassinated Wednesday is now in jail awaiting a day to set for trial before county Judge Foster for murder, as suggested in the verdict of the Coroner's jury. Johnson came into the city early Friday morning and surrendered to the authorities, saying he started to the city on the first intimation that the jury, in their verdict, had pointed to him as the slayer of his late wife.

As is quite frequently the case, natural fine gravel is plentiful, no sand need be added to the natural gravel, then the expense of making the concrete is reduced to a minimum, the price per yard of gravel the same or less than that of sand.

It has been found very satisfactory with the ones who have built houses of it.

ROUNDED STONES.

Gravel, As a Concrete Materirial, is Valuable.

Gravel is an aggregate of more or less rounded stones, such as may be water worn, of different sizes. The individual stones may be limestone, granite, igneous stones of various varieties, other classes of rock or mixture of a greater or less number of such classes of rock that will pass through a one-inch screen.

The void spaces in mass of gravel will be greater or less according to the variation of sizes of the individual stones forming the mass, and frequently it happens that the amount of such void spaces is so small that the addition of building sand will not further reduce the amount of such voids.

Further, it ordinarily happens that the addition of a comparatively small quantity of building sand will reduce the amount of voids so that the addition of further building sand will not reduce them any more.

The concrete material is understood to be all of that part of a mass of concrete, except the cement used, and may be a mixture of broken stone and sand, or a natural gravel without any mixture of sand, and possibly a "rim of crusher" dust or broken stone without any mixture with sand. The material which contains the smallest amount of void space is other things being equal, the best for concrete blocks. That is, a smaller quantity of cement will make as good a concrete as would be secured by using a larger quantity of cement with a material in which the void spaces are larger.

If there be taken from a mass of concrete all other material there will be left the honeycombed mass of cement, which will offer a greater or less resistance to being broken. If, on the other hand, the adhesion of the cement to the material be the greatest possible, then the resistance of the mass to being broken will be the greatest possible.

It must be evident that, excepting for the strength of the honeycombed concrete mass it will be dependent on the extent of adhesion of the cement to the materials used. Consequently the materials should be the best obtainable.

Experience has shown that, with Portland cement, if a mass of concrete a few months old is broken, the cleavage line will form through the stone mass, in the main, so that gravel may be made to be a suitable concrete material.

If a neat cement mortar be spread upon a slab, and both a round and angular stone be rolled around in it, it will be noticed that the rounded stone will become coated with a thin covering of the mortar at the expense of less labor and with more certainty and continuity than the angular stone, both stones being equally free from dust.

The rounded stone presents its surface to a washing or rubbing process with more facility than an angular stone, which again leads to the conclusion that gravel makes the best of concrete material.

As is quite frequently the case, natural fine gravel is plentiful, no sand need be added to the natural gravel, then the expense of making the concrete is reduced to a minimum, the price per yard of gravel the same or less than that of sand.

It has been found very satisfactory with the ones who have built houses of it.

NOTHING TO CONCEAL

Dr. Pierce Takes the Public Into His Full Confidence.

With all the recent talk about patent medicines and the determined effort in certain quarters to cast discredit upon all household remedies which come under that head, the fact remains that some of these medicines are so firmly established in popular favor and confidence, have proved their worth and value, that all the denunciations of bigots cannot destroy the people's faith in them.

One of the best known of these remedies is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine which for years has been accepted by the people as a standard preparation for the cure of those ailments to which women alone are subject and which has proved to be a certain cure in nine cases out of ten and a sure relief in the other one. Forty years of use by countless numbers of intelligent women is sufficient to indicate what the Favorite Prescription has done and is doing for those women who suffer from the dragging pains—from that peculiar lassitude—from any of the uterine derangements which sap the life and strength of women, making them old and worn when they should be and could be young and fresh and vigorous and lovely, when life should have and could have all the charms that Nature intended to have.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has wrought this mighty change for thousands upon thousands of women in the last forty years and is working its miracle of cures to-day. Before Dr. Pierce conceived the idea of placing this medicine within the easy reach of every suffering woman he had demonstrated its value in his large private practice as a specialist in women's diseases. He knew what it would do for women by actual test. He was a physician of renown, a man of honor, a former member of Congress, one who is highly esteemed in his community.

The thought of preying upon his fellows or of deluding them into using a worthless nostrum is as repugnant to him as it can possibly be to any self-constituted guardian of the physical well-being of the nation.

There is nothing to conceal about the Favorite Prescription. It is an absolutely pure medicine—made of roots and herbs, Nature's own restoratives, compounded after a formula concerning which there can be no question by skilled chemists and by thoroughly scientific processes. Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know that his Favorite Prescription contains Blue Cohosh (Caulophyllum Thalictroides), Black Cohosh (Cimicifuga Racemosa) Lady's Slipper (Cypripedium Pubescens) and Golden Seal (Hydrastis Canadensis).

Every doctor knows that such a prescription if beneficial is the diseases of women and when properly compounded is certain to effect a cure of practically all cases when given a fair trial. Hereafter every bottle of the Favorite Prescription which leaves Dr. Pierce's immense laboratories in Buffalo, N.Y., will plainly tell of what the medicine is composed. Thus Dr. Pierce will once more prove to the world his own confidence in the remedy which for forty years has borne his name and which is known throughout the United States and Canada, England, Australia, and in parts of South America, as a sovereign cure for those diseases which, unchecked, make our women old before their time.

It will be noticed that there is no alcohol in the Favorite Prescription. A great hue and cry has been raised because some patent medicines contain alcohol. Dr. Pierce never believed in using alcohol in the preparation of his famous household remedies. For it, he substituted glycerine, which has wonderful properties for extracting the medical principles of roots and herbs and bark and preserving them at their full strength, without any deleterious effect whatever.

Your druggist sells the Favorite Prescription and also that famous alterative and blood purifier, the Golden Medical Purifier. Write to Dr. Pierce about your case.
